Uttarakhand

Action Plan

About the Department:

The Department of English is amalgamation of English Language and Literature. English is not only an international language, but essential language for interpersonal communication across the world. Learning English is as important as eating food for a living. English is the language for research in any field be it student life or for business. It is essential to learn, read, speak and write in English. It is an important language because as we go anywhere across the globe, English is the most common language which people overseas can speak and write without any hurdle.

Literature is also important for students because it helps them to develop their imagination and creativity, improves their language skills and also enables them to appreciate the arts. It also helps in developing emotional sensitivity and gives them a taste of beauty.

Reading Literature helps students to discover the world beyond college. It enhances their knowledge about society, history, science, geography and politics.

Students read Literature because it teaches them about the world around them and gives them an insight into human nature. They learn about different cultures from reading literature from other parts of the world through poetry, drama or prose fiction such as novels, short stories, etc which are written by writers from different countries.

So, it is truly called, "Literature is the mirror of society"
